INTRODUCTION

Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition for registered dietitians is offered by the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR), the credentialing agency for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition credential is granted in recognition of the applicant’s documented clinical nutrition practice experience and successful completion of a computerized examination designed to assess advanced practice. There are two, three-week examination windows in April, and November. It is essential that you keep this Candidate Handbook readily available for reference until you have successfully completed the examination. You are responsible for knowing its contents.

TESTING AGENCIES

The Caviart Group is currently the professional agency retained by CDR to assist in the development, scoring, and analysis of this examination. Pearson VUE is the professional agency retained by CDR to administer the examination.

STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION

CDR, The Caviart Group and Pearson VUE do not discriminate among candidates on the basis of race, color, creed, gender, religion, national origin, disability or marital status.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Information about candidates for testing and their examination results is considered confidential. Test question drafts and other materials used to create examination questions (except for test content outlines or reference lists) are secure and confidential. All such materials shall be kept in secure, locked storage, accessible only by authorized personnel, and not disclosed to or shared with others. All questions written and materials developed for questions are considered a “work for hire,” and remain the property of CDR. Question writers are not allowed to conduct “review courses” or other programs designed to prepare candidates to take a CDR advanced practitioner examination. Studies and reports concerning candidates will contain no information identifiable with any candidate, unless authorized by the candidate.

CDR asks that each practitioner work to maintain the integrity of the advanced practitioner examination so that it can provide a quality certification—one that highlights the RD-AP, RDN-AP as a certified expert in advanced clinical nutrition practice. Thus, it is important to not discuss the examination content, questions and/or study resources. Each time examination content is discussed the exam is compromised and there is significant loss, not only in fiscal terms (cost of test development), but also in the many hours spent creating, reviewing, editing and compiling statistics for examination questions. Discussing the examination content is unethical and provides exam candidates an unfair advantage when taking the examination.
COPYRIGHTED EXAMINATION QUESTIONS

All examination questions are the copyrighted property of CDR. It is forbidden under federal copyright law to copy, reproduce, record, distribute or display these examination questions by any means, in whole or in part. Doing so may subject you to severe civil and criminal penalties.

EXAMINATION APPOINTMENTS

All candidates approved by CDR as eligible to take the examination will automatically receive an authorization to test e-mail from Pearson VUE, CDR’s testing vendor. The authorization to test email contains a personal CDR Candidate ID and dates of initial authorization. It also includes instructions regarding creating an account with Pearson VUE and the web address where the exam may be scheduled. A copy of this email should be kept in a secure location. This email will explain the process to schedule an exam and create login credentials for Pearson VUE’s website. Candidates should receive this e-mail no later than one month before the examination window opens. If unable to locate the e-mail, make sure to check the e-mail junk/spam folder. Candidates who have any questions regarding the authorization to test e-mail, please contact Pearson VUE customer service at 888-874-7651.

UPDATE OF ACCOUNT

Begin by reviewing the candidate profile. Sign in to the CDR/Pearson VUE web portal using assigned login credentials. On the home page select “My Profile” under the My Account section. Changes to e-mail addresses, mailing addresses, and phone numbers need to be made in writing to CDR.

For candidate identity protection, name changes must be submitted with legal documentation via the mail to the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR), attention Advanced Practitioner in Clinical Nutrition Certification. Candidates must use the Name/Address Change Form located on CDR’s website (cdrnet.org). Documentation must include the original legal document, such as a marriage license, divorce decree, or court order showing the name change. A notarized copy of the original document will be accepted. Original documents will be returned upon request. Please be sure to indicate that you are an exam candidate. Name changes can be sent to: Commission on Dietetic Registration, Attention: Advanced Practitioner Certification, 120 South Riverside Plaza, Suite 2190, Chicago, Illinois 60606. CDR is unable to accept faxed or scanned copies attached to e-mails. Candidates who have any questions regarding name change, should contact CDR.

Only the candidate’s legal name as it appears on an original (no photo copies), valid (unexpired) government issued ID that includes their name, photograph, and signature, should be used. Use of nicknames or abbreviations must be avoided. In this Handbook for Candidates, Admission to Examination (page 5), there are directions which state that the candidate’s name in Pearson VUE’s scheduling system profile must match the name on the government-issued photo identification card to gain access at the test centers.
An e-mail address is required in order to schedule an exam. Since e-mail is the main method of communicating with candidates, a permanent e-mail address should be listed in the e-mail field. Do not use an academic institution e-mail address (like a school.edu address) unless it is permanent. It is the candidate’s responsibility to make sure their e-mail address is current.

Address, city, state, and ZIP code fields should be updated with CDR, if necessary. At least one telephone number is required. Make sure your permanent telephone number is in the Telephone Number field, and fill out the other telephone number fields as necessary.

TEST CENTER LOCATIONS

The Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition Examination is administered at over two hundred and fifty (250) Pearson VUE professional test centers in the United States and selected international locations.
SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR CANDIDATES WITH DISABILITIES

Candidates applying for test accommodations must not sign in to the candidate account and register at this time. Instead, read and follow the instructions provided at the following website: www.pearsonvue.com/accommodations. There you will find information about accommodations and the application process. It will also include information on comfort aids which do not require an accommodations application. Follow the instructions in the Guidelines for Candidates. Do not ask your physicians, other professionals, or other agencies providing documentation to mail your documents separately. You must send all documentation together to the fax number in the Guidelines for Candidates. All accommodation requests and supporting documents must be submitted for evaluation each time you want to test with accommodations.

CDR makes every reasonable effort to accommodate applicants for the Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition Examination, who are disabled, as that term is defined in the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 2008. Under the ADA, a person is disabled if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits him or her in a major life activity.

In an effort to make the Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition Examination equally accessible to applicants with disabilities, testing accommodations are made available for candidates with diagnosed physical, mental, sensory, or learning disabilities, and who provide appropriate documentation.

All accommodations requests are evaluated by qualified professionals. Requests may also be submitted for independent external reviews by specialists in a particular impairment. It is important to understand that the mere documentation of the presence of a disability does not entitle you to accommodation(s). Rather, the impact of your disability on your ability to take this examination must be quantifiably documented.

For all requests: Candidates will be notified by mail whether or not their accommodations have been approved. If accommodations are approved, a letter will provide instructions on how to schedule the exam by telephone.

All candidates, regardless of accommodations, are still required to test during the examination window. Apply as early as possible in advance so that sufficient time will be allowed to make the proper arrangements as accommodations must be approved in advance of testing. It is your responsibility to notify Pearson VUE of the need for accommodations.

Pearson VUE reserves the right to independently evaluate documentation submitted by all candidates who request accommodations.

Pearson VUE may refuse accommodations if adequate notice accompanied by complete documentation as set forth above is not provided. If accommodations are denied, the candidate will be required to test under standard conditions. Please register and schedule for your exam by following the instructions outlined in this Handbook.
Additional questions regarding disabilities and/or required documentation, are to be directed to Pearson VUE at 888/874-7651 and ask for an accommodations Program Coordinator between 7:00 am and 5:00 pm Central Time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays.

SCHEDULING, CHANGING OR CANCELLING AN APPOINTMENT

Scheduling, changing, or cancelling an appointment is completed on the Pearson VUE Web Portal.

Sign into the candidate personal account using the username and password that was created after receiving the authorization to test email from Pearson VUE. Any changes to an appointment made through an online account must be completed at least 48 business hours before your current test appointment.

Candidates who are rescheduling by telephone, you must call at least 48 business hours in advance of their current test appointment. Anytime an appointment is scheduled, changed, or cancelled, the candidate will receive confirmation of the transaction by e-mail. It is the candidate’s responsibility to verify your receipt of the scheduling or cancellation e-mail and your testing appointment date, time, and location.

If candidates do not take the examination within the testing window they will be required to submit a new application for the next examination window. Previous applications cannot be used.

If assistance in scheduling a test appointment is needed, please call Pearson VUE’s Candidate Service Center at 888/874-7651, from 7:00 am to 7:00 pm, Monday through Friday, Central Time, excluding holidays. Scheduling outside of these hours must be done on the Pearson VUE Web Portal.

LATE ARRIVALS

Candidates who arrive more than 15 minutes late for their testing appointment will not be seated. Candidates can reschedule if there is still availability within the testing window. If candidates are unable to reschedule within the testing window then candidates will have to apply for the next examination window.

ADMISSION TO THE EXAMINATION

Candidates are required to present one form of original (no photo copies), valid (unexpired) government issued ID that includes their name, photograph, and signature. If the candidate does not have the qualifying ID, a passport from their country of citizenship is required. The identification must reflect the candidate’s current legal name and match the information on their Pearson VUE profile. Workplace, college or university identification will not be accepted.

Effective March 9, 2015, all examination candidates who report to a Pearson VUE Test Center will be required to remove their eye glasses and present them to the Testing Administrator for visual inspection. Eye glasses are considered a comfort aid item, which means they are allowed in the testing room following visual inspection to ensure examination security.
For identity authentication, candidates will have their palm scanned using “Palm-Vein Recognition” biometric technology. Palm-Vein Recognition offers an accurate, safe form of positive identification and helps to maintain the examination’s integrity.

If extreme weather conditions prohibit travel to the test center, the candidate must contact Pearson VUE by telephone (888/874-7615) within three days after the scheduled examination date in order to be reauthorized to take the examination at no cost to the candidate. Examination appointments that the test center cancels due to weather or other emergency conditions may be rescheduled at no cost to the candidate.

REFERENCE LIST

Be sure to view the content outline before selecting the references you need. The references listed are suggestions. It should not be inferred that studying these references will ensure success on the examination nor should it be assumed that items on the examination are based on any specific resource listed.

EXAM ITEMS

Single Answer Items
This item contains a question followed by four answer choices. For each question select the one best answer.

Example:

Which nutrient recommendations should be made for a 78-year-old male with end stage renal disease (ESRD) on dialysis; type 2 diabetes; and a stage 4 ulcer, 12% unintentional weight loss and laboratory value for Hemoglobin A1C 9.0?

- 2.0 gm protein/kg; zinc supplementation; liberalized carbohydrate
- 0.6 gm protein/kg; B12 supplementation; carbohydrate counting
- 3.0 gm protein/kg; Vitamin K supplementation; 30% of diet coming from carbohydrate
- 0.4 gm protein/kg; Vitamin A supplementation; 50% of diet coming from carbohydrate
Multiple Answer Items

This item provides a question followed by four or more answer choices. Immediately following the question is an instruction indicating the number of answer choices that candidates must select to respond to the question. For example, the instruction may indicate “SELECT TWO”; or “SELECT THREE”; etc.

Example:

A 24-year old female wanted nutrition advice on specific diets for her food sensitivities. She finds a dietitian on the internet and makes an appointment. The client presented with high anxiety, a fear of certain foods, nervousness and fast-talking during the session. She has a BMI of 17.2 and exercises about 1-2 hours per day, 6-7 days a week. No laboratory values were provided during the session and her detailed three day food log shows low calorie meals of primarily fruits and vegetables. She avoids processed foods, meat and dairy products and only eats organic foods. She is very interested in a high protein, low carbohydrate diet as recommended by her personal trainer.

Which are the best initial approaches to nutrition counseling? (SELECT TWO.)

- Assess knowledge and beliefs towards food.
- Discourage client from taking nutrition advice from a personal trainer.
- Recommend client reduce physical activity.
- Refer the client for psychotherapy.
- Use positive client centered counseling techniques.

Case Management Items

These items assess candidates’ ability to manage situations that may be encountered by advanced practitioner (AP) clinical dietitians. Each case has two, three or more steps.

Example:

For each step select as many actions as are needed (but only the actions needed) to manage the case. You MUST select at least one action before you can move to the next step.

Case Record

Step 1: A 48-year-old male veteran is admitted to a hospital with depression and severe weight loss with gastrointestinal (GI) complaints. The patient was discharged from the Army for medical reasons related to an explosion that destroyed 90% of his hearing. The patient usually communicates through his daughter who has joint power of attorney with the patient but is not present today. His current BMI of 17 is decreased from his previous BMI of 21. The patient has been admitted for 3 days and is currently consuming 25% or less of meals.

Case Management Question – Step 1
Based on the information in the Case Record, how should the dietitian proceed?
- Add protein/calorie nutrition supplement
- Ask diet aides to monitor tray and only send foods patient is eating
- Change to soft diet to alleviate GI distress
- Contact patients daughter for additional information
- Determine the optimal way to communicate with this patient
- Read past medical history and base diet on previous admissions
- Recommend tube feeding

Case Management Problem - Step 2

Case Record

Step 1: A 48 year old male veteran is admitted to a hospital with depression and severe weight loss with gastrointestinal (GI) complaints. The patient was discharged from the Army for medical reasons related to an explosion near his Humvee that destroyed 90% of his hearing. Patient usually communicates through his daughter who has joint power of attorney with the patient but is not present today. His current BMI 17 is down from 21. Patient has been admitted for 3 days and is currently consuming 25% or less of meals.

Step 2: Further evaluation determines that patient prefers to communicate in writing. He is able to respond orally. He is having difficulty sleeping since the Gulf War when he was injured. He has been treated for depression and has a regular medication regime. Patient's laboratory values reveals elevation in liver enzymes and mild anemia. GI distress includes irritable bowel with constipation at times and diarrhea occasionally. He does not exercise related to muscle pain. Patient remains on disability and does little outside the home. Diet history includes 1 meal/day, usually delivery from local pizza restaurant that is familiar to patient. He smokes 3 packs cigarettes/day and drinks 6-12 beers/day.

Case Management Question – Step 2

Based on the information in the Case Record, how should the dietitian proceed?
- Order multivitamin/multimineral supplement
- Provide liberal diet including preferred foods
- Refer to alcoholic anonymous
- Refer to medical social worker to improve home situation
- Request daughter provide list of preferred foods
- Research post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and nutrition implications related time of service
- Restrict protein to 0.8 g/kg/day and monitor ammonia levels
- Trial oral nutrition protein/calorie supplements for tolerance

Scrolling

Some exam items may not fit on the computer screen. For these items, a scroll bar will appear along to the portion of the screen that can be scrolled. To view the rest of the item, either use the mouse to click and drag the scroll bar, or click on the arrows on either end of the scroll bar.

Time Remaining Alert

A pop-up box will alert candidates when there are 10 minutes remaining to complete a section. When candidates have 5 minutes remaining in a section, the time remaining will automatically appear even if a candidate has minimized it previously.

FOLLOWING THE EXAMINATION

After completing the examination, candidates are asked to complete a short evaluation of their examination experience. Candidates are then instructed to report to the examination proctor to receive their examination completion report; this is not a score report. Score reports will be mailed to candidates approximately 8 weeks following the last date of the examination window. Scores are reported in written form only. Scores are not reported over the telephone, by electronic mail, or by facsimile.

In order to protect the security and integrity of the Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition Examination, CDR does not release to candidates the examination questions or the correct and/or incorrect answers.

PASS/FAIL SCORE DETERMINATION

The methodology used to set the minimum passing score is known as the Angoff method. This method is based on data gathered during the Passing Point Study involving a panel of experts in the field. In this process, each expert evaluates each item on the examination to assess the clarity and difficulty of the item. The ratings of these experts is then combined to determine how many correct responses are necessary to demonstrate the knowledge and skill required to pass each exam part. A candidate’s ability to pass the examination depends solely on the knowledge and skill that candidate displays, not on the performance of other candidates.

In order to become certified, candidates must achieve at least the minimum acceptable score on each part of the examination. The examination parts are not compensatory. That is, a higher than required level of performance on one part will not make up for a lower than accepted level of performance on the other part. Candidates who fail the examination and decide to retest will be required to take both parts of the test again regardless of their performance on any one part.

QUALITY CONTROL/SCORING

Before the final scores are released to the candidate, each examination undergoes a series of quality control checks. A thorough item analysis is completed and a statistical review of the performance of the examination is conducted. CDR, The Caviart Group, Pearson VUE and subject matter experts (SME’s) review this examination data along with candidate comments. Adjustments are made as needed to ensure that the scoring of all test questions is appropriate.
SCORES CANCELLED BY THE CLIENT OR TESTING VENDORS
CDR, The Caviart Group and Pearson VUE are responsible for the validity and integrity of the scores they report. On occasion, occurrences, such as computer malfunction or misconduct by a candidate, may cause a score to be suspect. CDR reserves the right to void or withhold examination results if, upon investigation, violation of its regulations is discovered.

PASSING THE EXAMINATION
All candidates who pass the examination will receive a wall certificate, identification card and orientation materials approximately six to eight weeks after they receive their score report.

RE-ESTABLISHING ELIGIBILITY
A candidate who fails the examination will be required to submit a new application, application fee and examination fee for the next examination window. Previous applications cannot be used.

DUPLICATE SCORE REPORT
Candidates may request additional copies of their results. Requests must be submitted to CDR, in writing. The request must include the candidate’s name, registration number, mailing address, telephone number, date of examination and examination taken. Duplicate score reports will be mailed within approximately two weeks after receipt of the request. Note that duplicate score reports will be a photo copy.

APPEALS PROCESS
An individual may appeal decisions regarding Commission policy/procedures (certification eligibility, certification maintenance, and recertification) by filing a written appeal. The following exam-specific appeals will not be accepted:

- the receipt of a failing score on a CDR examination,
- the examination or other measurement tool or individual test items, or
- test content validity.

Appeals must be sent to CDR (cdrappeals@eatright.org) within 30 calendar days after notification of an adverse decision and will be considered by the CDR Appeals Panel at its next scheduled meeting. A $20.00 Appeal Review Fee will be required with every appeal submitted. Appeals submitted without the $20.00 fee, will not be considered by the CDR Appeals Panel. A comprehensive copy of the appeals procedures can be found on the CDR website: https://www.cdrnet.org/appeals.

CERTIFICATION MAINTANANCE
At the end of the five-year certification period, certified advanced practitioners who wish to recertify must be a current Registered Dietitian with CDR and:

1. Successfully complete an eligibility application – including the required minimum number of clinical nutrition hours (800 clinical nutrition practice hours within the past two years)
2. Submit an application fee and examination fee
3. Pass the advanced practitioner examination

The reasoning for requiring recertification testing is that this certification is a practice credential, a credential that represents to the public that the certificant possesses the knowledge, skills and experience to function effectively as an advanced practitioner in that area. The nature of the knowledge and skills to practice at the advanced practice level is subject to change due to technological and scientific advances. Recertification testing helps to provide continuing assurance that the certified advanced practitioner has indeed maintained their knowledge in the clinical nutrition area.
