About the Agency

Summary:
The U.S. Department of State, our country’s lead foreign policy agency, provides a rich international experience. A Limited Non-Career Appointment (LNA) in the Foreign Service is a distinctive opportunity to serve your country for up to 5 years and offers candidates considering a career in the Foreign Service first-hand insights and exploration of potential Foreign Service career paths.

Supervisory Position:
No

Relocation Expenses Reimbursed:
Yes

Travel Required:
Occasional Travel
Successful Consular Fellow LNAs serve overseas and may be required to perform temporary duty travel away from family and/or in difficult or isolated conditions.

Duties
Please visit the Department’s Career Site for more details on the duties and responsibilities of a Consular Fellow.

Special Circumstances
This Consular Fellow LNA appointment is 60 months but may be terminated at any time based on the needs of the Service. A Consular Fellow is assigned to a U.S. embassy or consulate with the expectation that the appointment and potential extensions will permit completion of a standard two-year tour of duty. Upon completion of the first tour of duty, the Consular Fellow may be assigned to a different post. Consular Fellows are full professional members of embassy and consulate teams. Consular Fellows, however, do not provide expedited, alternate, preferential, or otherwise special access into the Department of State Foreign Service. These appointments do not lead to onward employment with the Department of State or with the U.S. government. Consular Fellows may apply to become Foreign Service Specialists or Officers, as well as Civil Service employees, but they must meet all applicable qualifications and complete the standard application and assessment processes. Consular Fellows who subsequently enter the Foreign Service as Entry Level Officers are still required to fulfill the consular service requirement. Consular Fellows must also complete 24 months of service as a Consular Fellow before joining the career Foreign Service, if offered such a position.

Candidates applying for the Portuguese and Chinese language programs are hired for service in Brazil and China. Per the Foreign Affairs Manual (3 FAM 2424.5), the Department does not permit U.S. employees to be assigned to posts in countries of which they are nationals. [Additionally, candidates and their family members should be aware that, in general, countries do not extend privileges and immunities to family members who are dual nationals.]

Requirements:
The U.S. Department of State is developing a rank-ordered list of eligible hires for Limited Non-Career Appointment (LNA) Consular Fellow positions. To learn more about the Department of State and the Consular Fellows Program visit the Careers website.

Qualifications for Employment:

- Be a U.S. citizen and able to obtain authorization to work in country or countries of assignment. (Note: Candidates with dual nationality are ineligible for assignment within their country of dual nationality. Recruitment for Portuguese and Chinese languages is targeted for service in Brazil and China and dual national candidates are unable to meet this qualification).
- Be able to obtain a Top-Secret Security Clearance.
- Be able to obtain a Foreign Service Medical Clearance.
- Be able to obtain a favorable Suitability Review Panel determination.
- Be at least 20 years old at the time of application; at least 21 years old at the time of appointment.
- E-Verify: Verification of employment eligibility in the United States is required.
- Must speak and read an eligible foreign language at the required proficiency level (eligible languages are Arabic, Mandarin Chinese, Portuguese, and Spanish).
- Must be certified as compliant with E.O. 14043 on COVID Vaccination.

For more details on language proficiency review information at Language Tests - Careers (state.gov).

The Consular Fellow LNA appointment is for 60 months but may be terminated at any time, with 30 days’ notice by either the Consular Fellow or the Department. A Consular Fellow is assigned overseas to a U.S. embassy or consulate with the expectation that the appointment and potential extensions will permit completion of a standard two-year tour of duty. Upon completion of the first tour of duty, the Consular Fellow may be assigned to a different post for an additional two-year tour.

E-Verify: EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY VERIFICATION PROGRAM (E-Verify) – U.S. law requires organizations to employ only individuals who may legally work in the United States – either U.S. citizens, or foreign citizens who have the necessary authorization. This agency utilizes E-Verify to compare information from the Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification, to data from U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and Social Security Administration (SSA) records to confirm employment eligibility. If the employee’s information does not match DHS and/or SSA records, the employee is given an opportunity to resolve the problem. If eligibility cannot be verified, employment will be terminated.

No applicant will be considered who has previously been separated from the Foreign Service under sections §607, §608, §610 or §611 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980, as amended, or who resigned or retired in lieu of separation under these provisions. In addition, no applicant will be considered who has previously been separated for failure to receive a career appointment under section §306 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980, as amended, or who resigned or retired in lieu thereof.

Executive Branch agencies are barred by 5 US Code 3303 as amended from accepting or considering prohibited political recommendations and are required to return any prohibited political recommendations to sender. In addition, as mandated by 5 US Code 3110, relatives of federal employees cannot be granted preference in competing for these employment opportunities.
It is the policy of the Federal Government to treat all employees with dignity and respect and to provide a workplace that is free from discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex (including sexual orientation, gender identity, and pregnancy), national origin, disability, genetic information, age, political affiliation, marital status, or other non-merit factors.

The Department of State provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring reasonable accommodations for any part of the application or hiring process should so advise the Department at the Office of Accessibility and Accommodations (OAA) at OAA@state.gov within one week of receiving an invitation to an oral assessment. Decisions for granting reasonable accommodations are made on a case-by-case basis.

Personal Narratives and Statement of Interest:

These required questions provide an opportunity to describe examples and accomplishments from your education, life, and/or work experience that demonstrate your qualifications for becoming a Consular Fellow. Examples can be drawn from any part of your professional or personal experience. The information you give may be used in your oral assessment, should you be invited, and is an important factor in the competitive evaluation of applicants. Responses are limited to 300 words or fewer (maximum length 2,000 characters) for each item. You should compose your replies carefully, as one of the skills necessary to succeed as a Consular Fellow is the ability to write clearly and concisely. Answers to all items in the Personal Narrative and Statement of Interest are required and the following areas are evaluated as part of the online application: substantive knowledge, intellectual skills, interpersonal skills, communication skills, management skills, leadership skills, and motivation for applying.

Next Steps:
Candidate Consular Fellow Program Test results and applications are forwarded to the Department of State on a quarterly basis. After the information is received by the Department, all applicants will be notified via e-mail from the U.S. Department of State regarding next steps in the process. We recommend adding the Department of State domain (@state.gov) as an approved sender to your inbox.
